Notes on linking:

* One of the great features of ImpactSpace is the ability to link the founders, team, investors and investments to any of the company/impact investor's profiles.

However, before you are able to link a person or an investment, the profile must already exist in the database. Follow the instructions from step 5-7 to add a new profile. Once the profile has been approved, you can return to the company/impact investor profile to link. If the name of the person/company/impact investor/supporting organization is already in the database, the name will be recognized and added to the profile.

Note: We have an auto-complete function which helps prevent duplicates. As you are typing names will appear and you can select the appropriate entry.
