

January Marine Spatial Planning Sessions

Attend one of the Journal Club sessions to prepare for the seminar!

Journal Club sessions

Tuesday, January 18th

Center for Ocean Health Library

Long Marine Lab (UCSC)

RSVP to your campus liaison by January 14th!

Thursday, January 20th

Hopkins Marine Station

RSVP to your campus liaison by January 18th.

You may attend either session. When you RSVP, your liaison will send you the readings.

The Marine Spatial Planning team at Center for Ocean Solutions will facilitate the session. Join us to meet, eat, and discuss the readings. We will also prepare questions for the panel.

---

Workshop: April 23

Marine Spatial Planning:

Negotiating a Plan for the Chukchi and Beaufort Seas, Alaska

Morning session

Basic negotiation concepts & exercise

Afternoon session:

Case study on the Arctic:

Multi-stakeholder negotiation

The case study will be a multi-stakeholder, multi-issue simulation, including roles for state and federal government, conservation groups, fisheries, energy development, shipping, the military, and First Nations.

Seminar: Monday, January 31st

MPAs (Marine Protected Areas) & Marine Spatial Planning in California: Challenges and Opportunities

LeFeliz Room, Seymour Discovery Center

Long Marine Lab – UCSC

6:00 – 8:30 with light dinner

Panelists:

David Crabbe, Commercial Fisherman
Pacific Fishery Management Council

Mary Gleason, Lead Scientist
California Coastal and Marine Program
The Nature Conservancy

Michael Weber, Policy advisor on Oceans, Coasts, and Fisheries
Resources Law Group

Mark Carr, Science Advisory Team member, Marine
Life Protection Act
University of California Santa Cruz
Panel Moderator

Approach

The design of this year's MARINE theme is intended to:

- Build a community of interdisciplinary scholars
- Apply content knowledge to a future scenario
- Explore potential career development options
- Develop negotiation skills

Expectations

Priority for the April 23rd workshop will be given to those who attend all the sessions, including the small group journal club.

If you missed the opening session, please watch the video of the overview. Click on 2010-2011 Program Plans.